What is the telecommunication system in Haiti?

The telecommunication system in Haiti is comprised of a single wireline carrier (Tel-eco), and three wireless mobile vendors (Edwards 2010). Teleco is a wireless-based utility providing service through a network similar to those operators throughout the United States. The earthquake caused the collapse of the Teleco building in Port-au-Prince.

Does Haiti have a mobile phone network?

Despite wide-ranging poverty, Haiti increased its mobile phone coverage rate from 6% to 30% in one year (May 2006 to May 2007). Haiti is now the driving force in mobile phone growth in the Caribbean, while radio remains the primary information medium for most Haitians. [citation needed]

How many Internet service providers are there in Haiti?

There are 4 Internet service providers serving the country - NATCOM, Access Haiti, Hainet., and Digicel Haiti. The Haitian telecommunications authority, CONATEL, decided in October 2010 to allow the introduction of 3G services by the mobile telephone service providers.

What is Tele Haiti?

Tele Haiti is a television broadcasting network providing paid television services with over 140 local and international channels on its network TeleHaiti. In 2012, there were 50,000 main lines in use ranking Haiti 163rd in the world.
